Sukun: the letter with no vowel

The sukun is a small circle above the letter. It means: this letter is said on its own, with no vowel. It attaches to the syllable before it.

The sukun is a small circle above the letter. It means: this letter is said on its own, with no vowel. It attaches to the syllable before it.

Learn

Next lesson

See also

Short vowels: fatha, kasra, damma
Previous

Test: vowels and marks (20 questions)

The Arabic alphabet: all 28 letters

Surah Al-Ikhlas: Arabic text and audio